Hero Section:

Headline

One place to hire for every role in your institution

Sub-headline

EduVyapar connects schools, colleges, coaching centres and training institutes with people looking for work in education. You post a job and reach candidates for the exact role you need to fill. That could be a PGT teacher, a principal, an accountant, or a school bus driver.

Visual suggestion

A clean dashboard view with two or three sample job cards (a teacher role, a coordinator role and a support-staff role) so visitors see at a glance that the platform handles every kind of opening.

Key Benefits:

Built for the way institutions actually hire

Most job sites are made for offices and IT companies. Education hiring works differently, and EduVyapar is built around those differences.

- Every role in one post. Teaching, non-teaching and support staff sit on the same platform, so you are not running three separate searches in three separate places.
- Verified profiles. Candidates are checked before they reach you, so you can shortlist with more confidence and waste less time on unsuitable applications.
- The roles others skip. Drivers, peons, security guards, housekeeping, lab assistants and counsellors are listed properly here, not buried at the bottom of a general jobs board.
- Talk to candidates directly. You contact people yourself. There is no agency sitting in the middle taking a cut of the salary.
- Made for Indian institutions. You can filter by subject, board such as CBSE, ICSE or State, grade level and city, the way the sector actually thinks about staffing.
- Works on your phone. Post a job or reply to a candidate from wherever you are, without needing to sit at a computer.

How It Works:

Headline

Hiring in four steps

For institutions

- Post your opening. Add the role, subject, location and what you are looking for. It takes a few minutes.
- See matched candidates. The platform brings up profiles that fit your requirement, instead of leaving you to scroll through hundreds.
- Shortlist and reach out. Save the people you like and message them directly to set up a conversation or an interview.
- Hire. Confirm your candidate and keep the full record of the hire in one place.

For job seekers

Create your profile once and upload your documents. After that you can apply to openings anywhere in the country without filling the same form again and again, and schools can also find you and reach out first.

What you get inside the platform

- Verified candidate profiles. Identity and qualification details are checked, so a shortlist means something.
- Role-based matching. Openings and candidates are matched on subject, board, experience and location.
- Application tracking. Follow every applicant from the moment they apply to the day they are hired, in one view.
- Searchable talent database. Look through registered education professionals and reach out, even before you post a role.
- Hiring reports. See how your postings are doing, how many applied and where your responses are coming from.
- Secure online payments. Pay for your plan through a protected, built-in checkout.

What institutions and educators say

Please replace these with your own once you have them. They are written here only to show the tone and length that work well on the page.

"We had three teaching posts and an accountant's role open before the new session started. We filled all four through EduVyapar in under two weeks."

Principal, [School name], [City]

"I had been checking newspaper classifieds for months. I made one profile here and a school in my own city called me within a few days."

PGT Mathematics, [City]

"Finding non-teaching staff was always the hardest part of my job. This is the first place that treated those roles as seriously as the teaching ones."

Administrative Head, [Institution], [City]
